

Assent Publishing, LLC About the Marketing Intern

Bridget Diana is going into her sophomore year at Denison University, located in Ohio, with plans of majoring in economics and minoring in mathematics. She graduated cum laude from Mt. Lebanon High School in Pennsylvania. Here she found her niche as editor-in-chief of The Devil's Advocate, the monthly school newspaper. This allowed her to develop her writing, editing, organization, communication, and computer skills, which she carried with her to leadership positions at Denison, where she has taken a passion in organizing various philanthropic events. In her free time, Bridget enjoys playing the piano, attending yoga classes, and watching Netflix.

